Color of the month: Brown

Dear Families,

It is hard to believe that October flew by as quickly as a spaceship! We are proud of the way our students (and families) have been adjusting to zoom classes! The students learned about constellations, the various elements that exist in Outer Space and, the individuals that explore space our Astronauts. A number of our students mentioned an interest in becoming astronauts and even flying to Mars! The class had the opportunity to paint and create solar systems and the universe, constellation gazers and even decorate a rocket ship and space suit. Our students continue to work on letter and number recognition and sounds as well as "air writing" those numbers and letters. We explored mixing two primary colors (red and yellow) to discover our color of the month, orange and then created our individualized orange pumpkin paintings. Although we were unable to have a "normal" Halloween Party this year, our students practiced Halloween songs and learned that "There Was an Old Lady Who Swallowed a Bat" (by E. Colander). We look forward to reading books by favorite children's authors while discovering the difference between authors and illustrators and also discussing "Giving Thanks" for Thanksgiving during the month of November.
